

SWITCH-ASIA GRANTS LAUNCH IN CENTRAL ASIA

3 - 4 March 2020 • Tashkent, Uzbekistan

BACKGROUND

Many developing countries in Asia and Central Asia are undergoing a rapid industrial transformation, which is having a significant impact on the environment. Activities of the industrial sector, amongst others the burning of fossil fuels, contribute to an increasing amount of greenhouse gas emissions and waste, affecting climate change and natural disasters. The change of production and consumption patterns, decoupling economic growth from environmental degradation and natural resources depletion is an urgent challenge. For this reason, in 2007 the European Commission launched the SWITCH-Asia - Promoting Sustainable Consumption and Production (SCP) programme to support the transition towards a low-carbon, resource-efficient and circular economy.

SWITCH-Asia is the largest Sustainable Consumption and Production (SCP) programme supported by the European Union involving 24 countries from Southeast Asia, South Asia, Central Asia, Mongolia and China. In line with the priorities of the European Green Deal, the programme aims to promote sustainable and inclusive growth in Asia decoupling it from environmental degradation and to support Asian countries in their transition towards a low-carbon, resource-efficient and a more circular economy while contributing to poverty reduction. The programme promotes mainstreaming sustainable consumption and production in relevant national policies and supports the transition towards a green economy, poverty reduction and climate mitigation.

Through its grants scheme, the programme funds pilot projects helping companies to test and adopt cleaner technologies and more sustainable industrial practices as well as consumers to adopt more sustainable consumption behaviours and lifestyles. The evidence provided by projects is meant to feed into policy and regulatory discussions with national governments supporting them in adopting SCP national plans and regulatory frameworks. SWITCH-Asia will ultimately contribute to help governments in adopting measures to reduce their greenhouse gas emissions, in line with their engagements and targets set within the Paris agreement on climate change.

The second phase of SWITCH-Asia was launched in 2018, and in June 2019, the programme was extended to the five Central Asian countries: Kazakhstan, Kyrgyzstan, Tajikistan, Turkmenistan and Uzbekistan. The Central Asian countries have participated in the grants programme in 2019 and 7 projects were selected, to be implemented from 2020.

So far, the EU has invested nearly EUR 280 million towards promoting SCP and funded about 130 projects. Through the grant scheme, the programme successfully reached out to more than 400 Asian and European non-for-profit partners, 100 private sector associates, and 70,000 Asian micro, small and medium-sized enterprises (MSMEs). The replication and scaling-up effect of projects results, together with access to finance and public-private investments for green products, services and technologies, will be key elements within the programme in the next years in order to achieve a greater impact in the region.

The EU is committed to continue this support in cooperation with government partners and stakeholders in target countries and the joint efforts of the SWITCH-Asia components:

Implemented by

Managed by

SWITCH-Asia is currently organised around two strategic components:

- Sustainable Consumption and Production Facility (SCP Facility) aims at facilitating the information sharing between the three components and the projects' grantees. It carries out analysis on the outputs of funded projects in order to involve them in discussions on SCP with national governments. The SCP Facility acts as a coordinator of the three components and it provides a single platform for all of the SWITCH-Asia projects to maximize their results, to further promote SCP policies and principles, and fulfil its policy and advocacy support to eligible countries. This component is implemented by a consortium of IGES, adelphi, and GIZ in the lead.
- Grants Programme funds pilot projects helping companies to adopt cleaner technologies and more sustainable industrial practices as well as helping consumers to act more responsibly in their daily choices and lifestyles. This Component is managed by the EU Directorate-General for International Cooperation and Development (DG DEVCO).

Through its activities, the Programme is expected to achieve:

1. Implementation of environmentally friendly technologies and practices to business.
2. Behavior change by consumers to less damaging consumption patterns.
3. A better policy dialogue on SCP at national and regional levels in Asia, a common platform to promote SCP.
4. Active and continuous dialogues on SCP priorities and needs at national, regional and international levels through sharing and learning.
5. Development of effective economic instruments that enhance SCP.

GRANTS PROJECTS IN CENTRAL ASIA

From the various projects submitted in response to the call for proposals of January 2019, seven projects covering SCP related issues and benefitting to 4 Central Asia Countries were selected. These projects focus on 3 main SCP areas:

OBJECTIVES

- Gathering together the implementing organisations of the newly awarded SWITCH-Asia projects in Central Asia in order for them to discuss about common challenges and opportunities, providing cross-fertilisation among projects within the same or different sectors.
- Analyse their contribution to policy dialogue with national governments as well as opportunities for scaling-up and replication of their SCP practices at country or regional levels.
- Present relevant EU and Regional Policies, as framing context for the Central Asia Grant Projects, as well as SWITCH-Asia programme priorities.
- Present projects with the aim to better highlight SCP related issues and synergies.
- Present the EU reporting and other administrative requirements to ensure adequate understanding of the needs and challenges for an efficient delivery.
- Present SWITCH-Asia Guidelines and Tools for effective communications in project implementation.

TARGET GROUPS

- SWITCH-Asia grant recipients (7 awarded projects / 37 organisations),
- EU Delegations in Central Asia,
- SWITCH-Asia National Focal Points (NFP).
